BERLIN, Feb. 12.—After conferring with Premier Mussolini, Spanish Generalissimo Franco arrived in the south of France today to canvass French-Spanish relations with Chief of State Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, according to information in Berlin.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Petain left Vichy yesterday for his Riviera estate at Villeneuve-Loubet for what was announced as a brief holiday. It was reported in Vichy this morning that French Vice Premier Admiral Jean Darlan also had departed from Vichy to join Petain, but an official Vichy spokesman later denied this.

Clarify Situation

German quarters said they expected that the conference between Franco and Petain might do much to clarify existing French-Spanish problems.

They added that Franco's talk (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Some idea of the amount of auto parking on downtown streets can be gained from reports of the sums collected in the parking meters. Last year some 383,885 nickels were deposited in the parking meters, which indicates this number of auto drivers dropped a nickel in the meters during the daytime. When it is realized that in many instances several cars park on the same nickel, that there is no parking charge nights or Sunday, the small number of streets covered by meters, an idea can be gained of the huge number of cars parked in the downtown areas during the course of a month or year. Since the parking meters were established here late in 1937, there have been 1,364,440 nickels placed in them, the receipt totals at the city treasurer's office reveal.

A sustained thaw would work wonders in the appearance of some localities around the city. Large piles of snow thrown up a couple of weeks ago to open traffic paths, have become quite dirty, and present anything but an appealing appearance.

Flags are being displayed today in commemoration of the birthday of "the emancipator" Abraham Lincoln.

Tuesday afternoon's beautiful sunshine did much to cause the disappearance of much snow and ice from our streets. City employees with added help were out East Washington street, this morning, endeavoring to remove the remaining ice.

Looks like the merchants are going to get a "break" for dollar days this week. Frequently in past years, weather conditions on dollar days have been anything but pleasant.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today, are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 50.
Minimum temperature, 12.
No precipitation.
River stage, 6 feet.
Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 41.
Minimum temperature, 26.
Precipitation, .40 inches.

Bremen And Hanover Are Again Attacked By British Bombers

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The great German seaport of Bremen, the industrial city of Hanover and other sections of the northwestern Reich were pounded again by British bombers during the night, the London air ministry announced today.

A communique said last night's R. A. F. bombing assaults were carried out on a reduced scale because of bad weather, but it added: "Targets at Bremen, Hanover and elsewhere in northwest Germany were successfully attacked."

Persistent Attacks

The newest R. A. F. raids were a continuation of the persistent and heavy attacks that both the air force and British navy have been hurling against the Nazi military machine during the past few days.

Legion Men To Mobilize For Home Defense

Questionnaires Will Be Filled Out Listing Qualifications Of Local Veterans

WILL ENROLL HERE DURING NEXT WEEK

Members of Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, will mobilize for home defense during the week of February 17, during which stenographers will be stationed at the Legion home, 134 North Jefferson street, to assist the men in filling out questionnaires listing their various qualifications for possible home defense work.

February 22 has been set aside by order of National Commander Milo J. Warner as national defense registration day, and the local post hopes to have all its questionnaires filled out by that time, so that there will be no congestion in the post quarters on mobilization day.

The forms are already in the hands of Commander Walter Dietterle here, and plans which the Gaston Post will take in doing their share in this movement were discussed at the post meeting which took place in the Armory at Cascade Park last evening.

Veterans To Enroll

In addition to members of the post, all other World War veterans who care to participate in this movement for home defense have been invited to come to the Legion home, North Jefferson street, at any time during next week, where they may enroll by filling out one of these questionnaires. ### Special Ceremonies At Springfield Mark Tribute To Lincoln

By CHARLES J. WHALEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 12.—A tall, granite shaft jutting into the sky attracted thousands of persons to the tradition-laden, central Illinois country today as the nation observed the 132nd anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth.

Chief mecca for the visitors was Springfield's Oak Ridge cemetery, where the body of the Civil War president lies buried under a state-ly white monument of stone. Nearby is New Salem state park, steeped in Lincoln lore.

Pilgrimages To Tomb

Three conducted pilgrimages wound their way through the heart of Springfield, Lincoln's home for 25 years, and northward to the tomb. One was sponsored by the American Legion, another by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a third by the Illinois Young Republican organization.

Officials of the national and Illinois departments of the Legion placed wreaths on the tomb in tribute to the emancipator, and then the Legion caravan headed for picturesque New Salem state park, on the banks of the Sangamon river and site of the restored village where Lincoln grew to young manhood, from 1831 to 1837, and courted Ann Rutledge.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary also visited Lincoln's tomb and New Salem. Dr. (Continued On Page Two)

Willkie Confers With President Roosevelt On British Aid Plan

By GEORGE DURNON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—It was a wide open secret today that President Roosevelt hoped for early passage of the "all out" British aid bill as a result of Wendell Willkie's spectacular Washington appearance, first before a tightly jammed closing session of the senate foreign relations committee and then at a near-midnight call at the White House.

What transpired in the oval room study when the opposing candidates in 1940's unprecedented election got together largely remained "off the record."

Report Evacuation Plan For Ethiopia Being Worked Out

(International News Service)
ROME, Feb. 12.—A project for evacuation of white women and children from Italian-conquered Ethiopia is now being worked out by the Vatican, International News Service learned on reliable authority today.

It was understood that Holy See authorities have made preliminary contacts with the United States government regarding the plan.

The Vatican, it was reported, has suggested that President Roosevelt intervene personally to help obtain the British government's approval of the scheme.

In addition, it has been suggested that the United States might furnish American ships to carry out the evacuation via Asiatic waters.

Meanwhile, well informed Italian political circles declared there was nothing in the military situation in Ethiopia to necessitate such a project.

Willkie Urges Destroyers And Bombers Be Provided For British Aid

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The senate foreign relations committee went into secret session today to frame a revised lease-lend British aid bill, with administration leaders indicating that they will accept some of Wendell L. Willkie's suggestions for modification "in the interest of national unity."

While administration spokesmen predicted speedy action in the committee, Sen. Johnson (R) Cal., foe of the measure, declared that "it will be shoved right through," possibly before nightfall.

Two of Willkie's major proposals, a "ceiling" on authorization of future aid and restricting the bill to the British empire, China and Greece, however, apparently are doomed to rejection.

Caldwell To Head Community Chest

Bell Telephone Chief Elected As Directors Organize For '41

CURRENT PAYMENTS GOOD, BOARD TOLD

Virdyn R. Caldwell, district manager of the Bell Telephone Co. here, last night was elected president of the New Castle Community Chest for 1941.

Report $475,000 Missing Also $200,000 In Jewels At Miami Beach Home

(International News Service)
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 12.—Mysterious disappearance of a fortune—$475,000 in cash and $200,000 in jewels—from the platial home of Mr. and Mrs. Roe Wells in Miami Beach had the local police so baffled today that they called in G-men for co-operation in solving the case.

The vanishing of the fortune was recorded Tuesday by Mrs. Wells, a former noblewoman, in a manner which detectives concluded in the light of subsequent events was surprisingly casual.

"We haven't figured this case out as yet," said Detective Chief Earl Carpenter of Miami Beach early today. "We can't say what happened to the money or the jewelry but in my opinion this is not a burglary or a robbery."

Warfare May Strike Balkan Area Suddenly

London Hears Of German Military Activities In Bulgaria

REPORT GERMAN PLANES LANDING

Thousands Of Civilian-Clad German Troops Are Reported In Bulgaria

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 12.—Strengthening belief that some major war move is under way in the Balkans, the London Evening News reported today from Belgrade that 25 Nazi divisions totalling 400,000 men have already been concentrated under a "Balkan high command" with headquarters in Bucharest.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Indications of a sudden burst of warfare in the Balkans, possibly in the immediate future, increased today as dispatches poured into London, telling of German military activities in Bulgaria.

A Reuters (British) report from Belgrade, quoting "usually reliable sources," said that more than 1,000 German planes had landed in Bulgaria up to yesterday.

It added that most Bulgarian air-dromes have been occupied by Nazi ground crews.

Tanks And Troops

Reuters also reported that some tanks also are believed to have been brought up the Danube river and already landed in Bulgaria by the Germans. The agency dispatch claimed that thousands of civilian (Continued On Page Five)

Bulgarian Oil Train Explodes

Bulgaria Shows Grave Fears Of Soon Being Involved In War

(International News Service)
SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 12.—All freight train service between Bulgaria and Yugoslavia was suspended today following the sudden and so far unexplained explosion of a Bulgarian oil train.

This incident, occurring at a moment of rising tension throughout the Balkans, aroused increasingly grave fears that Bulgaria soon may find herself embroiled in the European war.

Bulgarian newspapers added to the clamor by publishing bitter attacks on British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who in his recent radio address urged the Balkans to unite against Germany.

Meanwhile, Bulgaria's growing case of jitters was not calmed by reports that Germans of military age, but in civilian clothes, are entering the country.

The government has denied that large numbers of German troops have arrived in Bulgaria, stating that only a few Nazi aviation instructors have entered. But it is evident that official quarters in Sofia are apprehensive over the situation.

State Relief Funds At Low Stage

Fund Transfer Being Arranged

Legislature Speeds Measure To Provide Relief Deficiency Appropriation

HOUSE TO ADJOURN DURING AFTERNOON

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—Faced with a dwindling relief treasury, the House administration opened a drive today to whip through with a minimum of delay a $14,500,000 deficiency appropriation for public assistance.

The Republican-sponsored measure will receive second reading today in the house and third reading and passage to the senate next Monday, where an attempt will be made to obtain final enactment by the end of the week.

$6,400,000 from the motor license fund. This will bring to $43,000,000 the amount borrowed from the motor fund this biennium for relief. All the money is to be repaid in June. The remainder of the $14,500,000 is to be obtained from the following sources: $5,000,000 in anticipated excess revenue; $3,000,000 in lapsed funds; and $6,500,000 cash balance in the general fund.

Relief Fund Low
Relief officials disclosed that there was less than $7,000,000 left of the $193,000,000 already appropriated for public assistance for this biennium, a sum believed sufficient for another fortnight.

Also on the house calendar for second reading today are two bills bringing public-owned utilities under the supervision of the state public utility commission.

In the senate, Anthony J. Cavalcante, D. Fayette, and John M. Walker, R. Allegheny, chairman of the judiciary general committee, introduced a non-partisan measure yesterday designed to ban the Communist party from the ballot.

House bills introduced yesterday would establish a 65-mile speed limit on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, authorize a state lottery for old age assistance and permit local option on Sunday hockey and bowling.

BREMEN AND HANOVER ARE AGAIN ATTACKED BY BRITISH BOMBERS

many and up and down the continental "invasion coast"—concentrating especially on the German city of Hanover. Early yesterday morning units of the British home fleet shelled the German-occupied Belgian port of Ostend.

While the British planes bombed Germany, London experienced a brief air raid alarm last night and German raiders dropped a few bombs on southeastern England.

Reason For Move
Shedding light on the reason for the persistence with which British bombers have been pounding the German invasion ports along the channel coast, the "Free Belgian" news agency in London reported today that the Germans have been carrying on intense invasion preparations.

The agency quoted travellers from Holland and Belgium as stating the Germans have been equipping engine-propelled barges at such ports as Ostend and Flushing to carry guns and light tanks, and that the barges are fitted with draw-bridges which would permit troops and artillery to embark and disembark quickly.

According to the Travellers, the agency said, the barges are shallow-draft affairs that could cross the English channel only in exceptionally calm weather.

WILLKIE CONFERS WITH ROOSEVELT

prompted hope that a non-partisan vote would furnish England, among other things, with 5 to 10 destroyers a month. White House aides anticipated a curtailed Senate debate. Administration leaders predicted that the bill would reach a final vote by the first week of March.

Willkie had no comment to make on suggestions of unidentified navy sources that the American navy could not make good on a schedule that called for five or more destroyers a month for Britain.

He left the White House and boarded a train for New York early this morning, however, still in the apparent confident spirit that impelled him to cross up his Republican supporters and visit bombarded England in furtherance of the administration's foreign policy.

Confere Amiable
The man who tersely suggested to Sen. Clark (D., Mo.), that the 1940 election was water over the dam, and that Mr. Roosevelt was now "my president," gave reporters a distinct impression that the session he had last night at the White House was to his liking.

"We discussed production problems," said Willkie shortly before he boarded his train.

Asked about ability of the United States to make 60 to 120 destroyers a year available to the hard-pressed Britons, Willkie replied:

"We discussed production problems," said Willkie shortly before he boarded his train.

A reporter inquired whether his strong statement in behalf of the bill had been inspired by London officials.

"A better and more accurate statement would be that what I said was a result of my own investigation rather than what the British said," Willkie replied.

Unique Meeting
The meeting between President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie was unique in political annals of recent years. Willkie left no doubt that he hoped the 22 millions who voted for him last November would unite with the 27 millions who voted for the President and present a solid front on international affairs.

The final official reception of the White House social season—that accorded to ranking officers of the military establishment—delayed Willkie's conference with the President. Originally an indirect suggestion had been conveyed to the titular head of the Republican party that he remain overnight and call on the President this morning.

When Willkie finally was released from his appearance before the committee, however, he sent word that he would like to be back in New York today.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt stood in the White House blue room and received a thousand or more officers of the army, navy, marine corps and coast guard, and their wives.

Taken To President
At 10 p. m., a secret service agent in white tie and tails knocked on the door of the Willkie hotel suite and announced he had come to escort the hoosier to the White House.

There, Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, presidential secretary, took him upstairs to the oval room study. Willkie waited for a few minutes before the President put in an appearance. Reason was that the President, who detests full dress, had stopped long enough to take off his tail-coat and don a smoking jacket.

Willkie conceded to reporters that he and the President had "discussed the Irish situation." While Willkie was in England he flew to Dublin and conferred with Irish Prime Minister Eamon DeValera.

"What we discussed, obviously I can't discuss very well," said Willkie as he broke up the impromptu press conference and headed for his train.

an investigation, reported that the money and the jewels disappeared in two installments.

First, on Monday, $400,000 in currency vanished from a secret drawer in the dresser in Mrs. Wells' bedroom. She discovered the loss but did not report to anyone.

She played bridge at the Indian Creek Country club after learning the money was gone, according to the police.

Tuesday, a leather bag containing the $200,000 in jewels and $75,000 in cash disappeared from its hiding place in a locked clothes closet in her bedroom, she said, the police reported.

Carpenter quoted her as saying she alone had a key to the closet. It was not until after their Tuesday loss that the police were notified.

Mrs. Wells became so nervous over developments that she was placed under the care of a doctor.

with Mussolini was regarded as having contributed to clarification of the Axis situation throughout Europe.

Intimations in Berlin were that the German foreign office at present is marking time, awaiting developments, particularly in the Balkans. Chancellor Hitler is watching events from his Berghof retreat near Berchtesgaden.

Hinting that Berlin expects Britain to move against Rumania following their diplomatic break, German authorities said they regarded the nightly blackout in Bucharest as a "precaution against anything the British might attempt."

SOME REVISIONS CONSIDERED FOR LEASE-LEND BILL

sideration for all proposals for modifying amendments. Major amendments to be proposed included:

Direct ban on conveying of merchant ships; elimination of provisions permitting President Roosevelt to open American ports and navy yards to British warships; substitute proposal for $2,000,000,000 credits for Britain, and prohibition on transfer of warships without consent of congress.

Would Be Dangerous
Majority Leader Barkley said that Willkie's proposal to specify countries to be aided would be a "dangerous thing" and cited the possibility that Bulgaria and Turkey might appeal for American aid to resist Nazi aggression.

Sen. Connally (D. Tex.), predicted acceptance of house amendments to the original bill, together with adoption of other modifying amendments. He opposed a "ceiling" on future authorizations. The house, which also rejected such a provision, did limit transfers from existing army and navy stocks to $1,300,000,000.

"I'd be opposed to a 'ceiling' amendment," said Connally. "Congress can keep control of that when it comes to making appropriations."

Changed No Votes
While Willkie's plea for every possible aid to Britain was applauded by Democrats, it apparently changed no votes in the committee. Sen. Capper (R) Kan., said he was "just as much against the bill as ever." Sen. Gillette (D) Iowa, said most of Willkie's proposals for modification "have been covered in a general way in the house bill, but they don't change the tenor of the whole measure."

Sen. Harrison (D) Miss., assured that "full consideration" would be given to Willkie's proposals. They included one which would make it impossible to interpret the bill as giving the president control over press and radio, and modification of provisions repealing all laws in conflict with the measure.

Would Send Bombers
In urging the enactment of the bill, Willkie went further than most witnesses in proposing every possible aid for Britain. He not only urged America to send five to 10 destroyers a month, but proposed that all big bombing planes, except those needed for training purposes, be sent abroad. He further urged that all possible merchant ships be given priority.

The former Republican candidate based his plea on the theory that aid to Britain will help protect America from threat of a Nazi invasion which, he said, might be expected 30 days after Britain falls. He declared that he could not name a specific time for such a threat.

The report of treasurer Norman E. Clark showed the chapter to be in the most healthy condition financially that it has been in many years.

Mrs. John E. Elliott gave a splendid report on the volunteer service activities of the chapter during the year, and presented Red Cross pins to Mrs. James W. Rhodes, Mrs. Robert M. Garland, Mrs. William Lestas, and Mrs. John Wajert, for their outstanding service in production work, and to Mrs. Travis French, volunteer home hygiene instructor. Certificates were also presented to Mrs. Garland, Mrs. Ralph F. Davis, Mrs. C. B. Flester and Mrs. Harry Cullford for staff assistance, and to Rabbi Norman Diamond, Fred L. Taylor, Rev. A. W. These reports will be published in detail at a later date, so that the public may know what has been accomplished by the chapter.

Reports on the national defense conference in Pittsburgh were given by Mrs. Robert M. Garland, Mrs. John E. Elliott, and Rabbi Norman Diamond, who stated that the Lawrence county chapter has been so well organized that they had already anticipated virtually all of the problems outlined, and have organized to meet them. Mrs. William A. Pond and Mrs. L. E. Springer were also in attendance at this conference.

An Institution Here
Dollar Days are an institution with the merchants of New Castle, the occasion being one when they offer their customers in this community an opportunity to share in this sale and to receive the benefits they have earned through steady patronage of the local stores.

This sale will mean a great sacrifice to the merchants as practically everything which is being offered at prices lower than the regular value is reasonable merchandise which will still be in demand for some time to come, and is not being conducted at the flag end of the season. Some of it will even be advance spring goods.

There will be different articles offered on the two days of the sale, and it will behoove the buyers of the district to be on their toes and get in on the ground floor, as some of the articles offered will be such bargains that there will be a tremendous rush of buyers to get there before supplies are exhausted.

Don't forget tomorrow, marks the opening of this great sale, so be prepared to get in with the crowd which will be thronging the downtown district early.

Theta-Rho Girls

Theta-Rho Girls will have their meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Odd Fellows hall, East Washington street.

is entirely voluntary. Commander Dietterle states. Those enrolled will only be called upon to fulfill duties in home defense for which they are fitted.

Last evening's meeting was crammed full of important business. A report on plans for the national commander's banquet, which will take place on April 1, when National Commander Milo J. Warner will be the guest of the posts from the 26th congressional district, was given by General Chairman Chester C. Sweeney. He announced that Past Commander A. Louis Conn had been named vice chairman, and that an executive committee, consisting of two members from each of the three counties of Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties has been named to further plans for the event.

Chairman Edward D. Pritchard of the committee in charge of training drafted reported that interest in the training program is still being manifested by men of draft age, and that each class shows new enrollments.

Junior Vice Commander Duff reported that all arrangements for the party for members of the post and their families, which will be an event of Friday evening in the bingo rooms of the post on Neshannock avenue, have been completed, and a splendid evening of entertainment can be looked forward to by members and their families.

SPECIAL CEREMONIES AT SPRINGFIELD MARK TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

Joseph C. Menendez, national commander-in-chief of the VFW, headed a list of dignitaries participating in the program.

Biographer Speaks
So that the nation might join in the observance, part of the program at the tomb was relayed over a radio hookup, including speeches by Carl Sandburg, noted Lincoln biographer, and by officials of the two war veterans organizations.

An unusual feature marking this year's commemoration of Lincoln's birthday was the dedication of the Henry Horner collection of Lincolniana, presented as a gift to the state historical library a few months before the late Illinois governor died.

The collection, valued as high as $75,000, contains more than 5,000 items and represents the life compilation of Gov. Horner, who was a devoted Lincoln student and admirer of Lincoln's teachings.

The simple dedication ceremony took place in the Centennial building on the state capitol grounds. Gov. Dwight Green, Sandburg and others were on the program. The principal address was by Gov. Green.

In a prelude to today's observance, representatives of the Mexican and Canadian governments joined last night in a tribute to Lincoln's memory at exercises sponsored by a Springfield civic club. They were Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexican ambassador to the U. S., and Leonard Brockington, present wartime assistant to the Canadian prime minister.

Native Bermudians claim they can tell when the weather is to be fair or stormy, by a barometer made by filling a bottle with clear shark's liver oil. When the oil turns cloudy they claim a storm is approaching.

LADIES OF LIONS HEAR "TRAVELOGUE"

A travelogue, "Old and Modern," was a feature of the meeting of the Ladies of the Lions club when they met Tuesday evening with Mrs. George F. Winter, Jr., on North Mercer street, which was given in a most entertaining manner by Mrs. Earl Williams.

Mrs. Williams took the travelogue from the diary of her grandmother, who told of the hardships encountered in traveling from Nevada to Indiana about 1878.

This diary prompted a comparison, when Mr. and Mrs. Williams took a journey to the coast in 1938, and thus the modern trend of travel was related by the speaker, who referred to many historic places of interest where they stopped at leisure, in "complete confidence" of not being interrupted by unpleasant trespassers, as in the days of long ago.

A short business period preceded, and in closing, the hostess served light refreshments.

The next meeting will take place on March 11, with Mrs. W. A. McNally of Fairfield avenue, hostess. W. C. Williams, an authority on gardens, will speak on "Gardens and Flowers."

Close friends of the honoree composed the guest list, and after partaking of a delectable full course menu served at a table cleverly arranged in the all white bridal motif, attention was given to bridge contests. Miss Miller and Mrs. Claude Delaney were the winners of high honor trophies.

CO-HOSTESSES TO GUILD MEMBERSHIP

The nominating committee for new officers are as follows: Doris Lutz, Claribel Cope and Olive Jean McKibben.

Special guests were Mrs. Marie Burdette, Mrs. C. R. Thayer and Gladys Biekert, of Canonsburg, and Marie Kelly.

"The Eyes Of Lincoln"

By Walt Mason

Sad eyes, that were patient and tender, sad eyes, that were steadfast and true, and warm with the unchanging splendor of courage no ills could subdue! Eyes dark with the dread of the morrow, and woe for the day that was gone, the sleepless companions of sorrow, the watchers that witnessed the dawn. Eyes tired from the clamor and goading, and dim from the stress of the years, and hollowed by pain and foreboding, and strained by repression of tears. Sad eyes that were wearied and blighted, by visions of sieges and wars, now watch o'er a country united, from the luminous slopes of the stars!

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LINCOLN'S STEP-MOTHER

It is not easy to be a good step-mother. You and I have seen some who are really wonderful and we admire them. Abe Lincoln's step-mother was one.

At the age of eight Abe Lincoln's mother died. His father, Tom Lincoln, about two years later, leaving Abe and his sister Sarah alone for several weeks, walked over a hundred miles back to Kentucky where he had grown up, and married Sarah Bush Johnson, whose husband had a few years before, leaving her with three children. No one knows how much these children contributed toward the personality and education of Abe Lincoln—undoubtedly a great deal.

Tom Lincoln did not walk back home. Four horses drew them along with considerable furniture. "Here's your mammy," said Tom Lincoln to Abe and Sarah. The new Mrs. Lincoln took the corn husks Abe had been sleeping on, piled them in the yard and said they would be good for a pig pen later; and Abe was given a feather pillow and feather mattress.

The Proposal

When Tom Lincoln proposed to the widow he got quickly to the point. "I have no wife and you no husband. I came a-purpose to marry you. I knowed you from a gal and you knowed me from a boy. I have no time to lose and if you are willin', let it be done."

"She replied, 'I got debts.' He asked her for a list of these debts, paid them, then bought a license."

At about the age of fourteen, Abe borrowed a book from Josiah Crawford. The book was badly soiled one night by the rain, but she asked him to keep his head washed or he'd be rubbing the dirt on her white-washed rafters. He put barefoot boys to wading in a mud puddle near the horse trough, picked them up one by one, carried them to the house upside down and walked their muddy feet across the ceiling. The mother came in, told Abe he ought to be spanked—and he cleaned the ceiling so it looked new. Have you ever seen more commendable behavior in any parent?

She understood the adolescent boy as few parents do. "If he broke out laughing when others saw nothing to laugh at, she let it pass as a sign of his thoughts working their own way. So far as she was concerned, he had a right to do unaccountable things."

She understood and so did he. Of Abe she said in later years: "He never spoke to me a cross word in his life since we lived together."

The World and the Mud Puddles

MAKE IT EIGHTEEN TO TWENTY-ONE.

Yehudi Menuhin, the violinist, was placed in class 1 by the draft board in San Francisco, in spite of the fact that he is a married man with two children. The board gave as its reason that Mrs. Menuhin has a private income and is not dependent upon her husband's earnings for support.

"This rule is not binding on other boards, however. Local boards are given wide latitude in determining who should not be deferred. General rules issued by the selective service system are that the conscript army should be recruited with as little dislocation of communities as possible, and that in borderline cases, decisions should probably be made in favor of the registrant."

Par-reaching changes in draft policy are proposed by the American Legion, which is sponsoring a bill for a permanent draft program that would call only youths from eighteen to twenty-one. This Bill anticipates a system of universal military training for American youth. Sponsors argue that by calling men in their late twenties or thirties, the draft causes more severe dislocations than would a system confined to younger men.

Prospects are, however, that Congress will approve no changes in the present system until it has been given a wider opportunity to work. But between now and July, complaints can be expected to increase as the draft system shifts into high gear, and men are summoned from civilian occupations in increasing numbers.

Already, Under-Secretary of War Patterson has announced that, in spite of delays in the training program, the army will have 1,418,000 men in camp by June first, fully equipped with essential materials and weapons, and that some time in 1942 this army will be ready to take the field in any situation.

Every person should have just so much imagination—enough to foresee what will soon happen to England, but not enough to drive him crazy.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:31. Sun rises tomorrow 6:58.

Sound the alarm! Corsets are now being made for men to help them keep their posture.

The reason some people get drunk so often is because they are so set in their ways.

Some people don't like to go where they are told to go because it is too hot there.

LINCOLN LIKED THIS SONG
(From President Lincoln's favorite song, one which he encored 18 times when sung at a Sunday school convention in Washington in 1864.)

If you cannot on the ocean,
Sail among the swiftest fleet,
Rocking on the highest billows,
Laughing at the storms you meet,
You can stand among the sailors,
Anchored yet within the bay,
You can lend a hand to help them,
As they launch their boats away.

If you are too weak to journey
Up the mountain, steep and high,
You can stand within the valley
While the multitudes go by;
You can chant in happy measure
As they slowly pass along—
Though they may forget the singer,
They will not forget the song.

If you cannot in the harvest
Garner up the richest sheave,
Many grains, both ripe and golden,
Will the careless reapers leave;
Go and glean among the briars
Growing rank against the wall,
For it may be that the shadows
Hide the heaviest wheat of all.

Do not, then, stand idly waiting
For some greater work to do;
Fortune is a lazy goddess—
She will never come to you,
Go and toil within life's vineyard;
Do not fear to do or dare—
If you want a field of labor
You can find it anywhere.

If you want to walk the straight and narrow path you'll have to quit making the rounds.

It ought to be called "Scarlet O'Hara" instead of "Gone With the Wind."

It seems that burglars are smart enough to go where they can get money—or cigarettes.

Many places won't employ married teachers. You see, parents have already demonstrated that married people don't know how to train children.

FEBRUARY REMINDS ME
In records since the first of time,
(It has just dawned on me)
Each more-enduring narrative
Links someone with a tree.

It seems that—faintly—I recall
A fig tree that made history.
That George chopped down a cherry
one
Is surely not a mystery.

"Abe" Lincoln carved on any kind,
Just so it made a rail.
At least—that's how the story goes,
And it's a lasting tale.

So, if you want undying fame,
It really seems to me
The sure route is to get mixed up—
In some way—with a tree.

The optimist and the pessimist merely look at life through different ends of the telescope.

We'd think more of some women
if they had more polish on their manners than on their finger nails.

School books are being burned in Waynesburg to stop the spread of disease. After seeing a lot of books we wonder why there is not more disease

The axe of Lincoln's father felled the trees.
His toll-worn, patient hands by slow degrees
Clicked cracks between those logs
With mass and loam
To fashion those crude walls for Lincoln's home.
A floor of pounded earth with door
so small
One had to stoop to get inside at all;
A stone fireplace, with mud-daubed shakes for flue.
That kept the inmates snug while chill winds blew.
Rough chairs of surfaced logs, with sticks for legs.
A trusty rifle swung between two pegs;
A bed of moss and leaves, with skins
for quilt—
That was the home that Lincoln's father built
And more one winter day a child was born.

A wee, frail thing, so helpless and forlorn
The mother turned away to hide
her fears.
Then smiling at the father through her tears,
She kissed the new-born babe, with face aglow—
"We'll call him Abraham," she whispered now.

But little did she dream her babe would be,
Next to that Manger Babe of Galilee.
The greatest force that ever shook
the earth,
Whom all the world would honor
for his worth.
For lo, God stood beside that lowly

And placed His seal upon her baby's

"The other evening I went to a party scheduled a week in advance.
As I was taking off my wraps, the hostess came in holding her palm

how she was. To my complete surprise and dismay, she replied: "I am exhausted. I've been working so hard I feel that I'm on the verge of an illness. Naturally, the other guests and I felt throughout the evening that she wished we would leave, which we all did much earlier than anticipated. I think that she really was not very well; but had I been in a similar plight, I should have kept the facts from my guests. Wouldn't you?"—Guest.

Answer: I can think of no better way to throw cold water on a festivity occasion than a confession of exhaustion from the hostess herself unless she was seriously ill (in which case the party should have been postponed). She should have disguised her feelings from her guests and fortified herself with a strong pick-me-up of some kind.

Usually such complaints result from a martyr complex, manifesting itself in indirect appeals for sympathy. There is no party-spoiler so virulent as the person complaining of "nerves." Anyone inclined to a party should promptly decline on discovering such symptoms. Anyone in the entertaining family who manifests such symptoms should be quarantined until the danger of contagion has passed. And if it is the hostess, she should either call the party off or use her willpower to disguise her feelings. Most hostesses could save themselves from such exhaustion by distributing their preparations for entertainment over several days instead of concentrating them within a few hours immediately previous to the reception of guests.

Question: I am going to buy my husband studs for his evening clothes. Please tell me how many I should buy?—Wife.

Answer: They come in sets of three. With formal evening clothes, either one or two studs may be worn; with a dinner jacket, one, two or three.

Question: For how many vegetables, should I place sauce on the side of each plate?—L. D. L.

Answer: Never place on your table any saucers or small separate plates for vegetables. The only extra plates which are permissible (for anything but a family dinner) are bread and butter plates.
And, of course, bread and butter
are not served at formal dinners.

ONLY HIS OWN

Today we celebrate the birthday of the man who more than any other, has typified America at its best, as the land where the highest place is open to the humblest of us.
And this birthday will recall to many the numerous stories, good ones, too, centering around Abraham Lincoln.

One of them deals with a very upish official, who once found Lincoln polishing his boots as he came into the executive offices at Washington.

"Why Mr. President, do you black your own boots?" he asked.
Lincoln turned and a slow smile spread over those famous features.
"Why, certainly I do," he replied.
"Whose boots do you think I'd black?"

Cuba's Batista Well Liked In Capitol
Handled Recent Revolution Efficiently
Was Only Sergeant When He Upset Machado

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—President Fulgencio Batista of Cuba, who recently suppressed an inept
military revolt against his civil authority, is pretty well liked in Washington. He has visited in this country and made a good impression upon the capital's officialdom, which sizes him up for a fairly competent administrator, as presidents go in Latin America. That he's somewhat dictatorial is recognized,
but it's conceded that maybe a certain amount of peremptoriness is necessary, in view of Cuban conditions.

The opinion's expressed, too, that he was rather moderate in merely exiling most of the leaders of the latest plot against him, considering that, from all accounts, they planned to kill him.

Washington doesn't like revolutions in republics so close to the United States as Cuba is, anyway.
It hopes, unofficially, that Colonel Batista (he's often referred to as a colonel than as president) has the Cuban situation permanently in hand. There's a bit of apprehension that he hasn't thought, for the island's in bad shape economically.
Economics, however, had nothing to do with the recent anti-presidential conspiracy. The thing was cooked up by the army chiefs and the chiefs of Cuba's little peewee of a navy.

A peculiar feature of the affair is that Batista was an army plotter himself originally, and a successful
one.

Overthrew Machado
A sergeant was all he amounted to when he began his connubations to overthrow President Machado, who had developed his presidency into an out-and-out dictatorship. It generally is agreed that it was a very bad one and Washington didn't blame Sergeant Batista in the least for wanting to upset it.

To be sure, nobody imagined that just an ordinary non-com could do it, but Batista did, to the surprise of all hands.
That elevated him to his colonelcy.
It isn't clear why he didn't call himself a general, but it didn't matter; he made himself chief of staff,
as a colonel only, and he and the

CLEVER
Clever is a pleasing word!
Wherever it is heard
Every man and woman will
At the instant think of skill;
At the moment eyes will lift
Marking an unusual gift.
And the clever one will hear Admiration's lusty cheer.

If you're clever you will rise
High enough to win a prize,
And the throng which loves to see Skill perform will friendly be.
For a while the crowd will hail
You with cheers, but should you fail,

Just as once they turned to you
They will greet their hero new.

It is very good to gain
Cleverness of hand and brain.
Practice hard and practice long Overcoming what is wrong;
Work with patience and with will
To acquire the touch of skill.
But against the blows that fall
Being clever isn't all.

This clever day you'll come to see,
There is so much more to be.
Life is sometimes hard and rough,
Being clever's not enough!
Men will also ask of you
To be generous; to be true;
To be honest, to be kind,
Stout of heart and clean of mind.

Ringier Words

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.
IF, as seems clear, the people of America are largely divided between those who want to help the British cause to the utmost limit of our ability and those who want to aid only in a limited way, then certainly the speech of Mr. Winston Churchill has increased the size and fervor of the first class and correspondingly diminished the numbers and convictions of the second. It is inconceivable that that speech had no effect or that the effect could be otherwise.

BECAUSE no more moving address has come from any man anywhere in the memory of living men. It is hard to believe that anyone not utterly calloused or congenitally incurably hostile to England could have listened to the thrilling phrases of this great man without being stirred to his depths. Compared with that utterance, those of other statesmen, here and abroad, seem inane, insipid, shallow, trivial.

THROUGH those simple, ringing, superbly chosen Churchill words there breathed the stark courage of an indomitable leader facing fully the grim realities, the lion-hearted
chief of a great nation which, following him, will conquer or die but never quit. Listening to Mr. Churchill, as in unforgettable language he outlined the picture, comprehending the mortal character of this time struggle and its immense meaning to England and to us, it seems impossible not to feel that nothing much matters save to help now—
without the delay of an unnecessary day—with all we have, with all our hearts, in every possible way.

IN the face of that magnificent appeal—"Send us the tools and we will finish the job"—not to do so is unthinkable. If to that we do not respond wholeheartedly, then there is something terribly wrong with us.
Beside that exciting and tremendous address, all the arguments for and against the proposals now being debated. The Wilkies and the Lind-berghs, the Stimson and the Knoxes,
the Landons and the La-Guardias all seem thin, feeble, pale aid. It is true that the President's lend-lease bill gives him dangerous and unnecessary powers. It is true that his radical aides and labor friends scheme to use this crisis chiefly to promote their so-called "social reforms." It is true that, disregarding experience, he has set up a two-headed monstrosity of a defense organization which functions with a maximum of waste in time and money and a minimum of efficiency. It is true, too, that the absence of anything approaching an adequate taxation and economy program is pushing the nation steadily toward the brink of bankruptcy.

THESE and a good many other things are true—but what of them?
One is ashamed to be diverted by them. The question of helping England—for us as well as for her—is so overwhelming that for the time being everything else appears insignificant. However unpleasantly the dose is prepared, whatever the defects of the plan, if it is the only way to help England, it has to be taken. Amend it if possible, but if that can't be done, take it anyhow.
There is no other alternative for those who think that reality and facts. It is not merely sentiment that forces us to this choice—it is self-interest as well.

THIS does not mean that the sins of omission and commission of which this Administration, under cloak of its defense program, is guilty are to be condoned. It does not mean that five specialties of the abandoned or criticism cease. It does mean that so compelling are the reasons for aid to England that nothing should be allowed to stand in the way. Once that is assured we can wrestle again with our domestic difficulties and hit hard those who are misleading us.
But if we fail to respond with the tools and England goes under,
then the name of the other things will make any difference to us. If that happens, nothing much matters. So great will be the disaster that all else will be swallowed up.

'Look To The Lapels' To Discover What Branch Of Service A Soldier Is In

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON—Here's how to tell a soldier's branch of service, according to the War Department.
"Look to the lapels," suggests an Intelligence Officer of the Department. "If you want to talk to a soldier about his branch of service, you'll find his department designated by an insignia on the left side of the collar or shirt, or on both lapels."

The designations are:
Infantry—crossed rifles, gold.
Cavalry—crossed sabers, gold.
Field Artillery—crossed cannons with a shell, gold.
Air Corps—silver propeller with gold wings, horizontal.
Adjutant General's Dept.—enamel blue field with 13 white stars and 13 stripes.
Aide-de-camp—enamel white surmounted by an eagle, red, white and blue.

Chaplain's Corps—silver cross.
Chemical Warfare Service—gold crossed retorts.
Corps of Engineers—triple turreted castle, gold.
Finance Dept.—gold diamond.
General Staff—silver five-pointed star with shield.
Inspector General's Dept.—a sword and fasces, crossed and wreathed, gold.
Judge Advocate General's Dept.—sword and pen crossed and wreathed, gold.
Medical Dept.—a caduceus, gold.
Quartermaster Corps—sword and key crossed with a wheel surmounted by a flying eagle, gold.
Ordnance Dept.—a bursting bomb.
Signal Corps—two crossed enamel flags.
Warrent Officers—an eagle standing on a bundle of arrows and enclosed with a wreath.

army took complete charge of the government—the civil as well as the military end of it.

This suited the army alright. In reality, Batista himself was running the whole show, but the army leaders reckoned him simply as one of themselves and didn't resent his chieftainship. Besides, he more or less consulted 'em.

But some while ago he took a fancy to the idea of becoming president, got himself chosen, moved into the presidential palace at Havana, and transformed himself into the role of boss of civil administration. It seems to have altered his viewpoint entirely.

The army, for instance, had been exercising supervision over the island's schools. The navy had been policing its ports, supervising its lighthouses and in charge of its fisheries.

President Batista quickly assumed civilian presidential direction of all these functions.

He took the position that armies and navies are governmental servants—that they're not actually the government. On this basis he's been reorganizing the Cuban system as fast as possible.

Generals Infuriated
The generals and admirals first were alarmed; then infuriated. In the first place, they realized that they were being deflated. In all probability they likewise found that some of their extra-emoluments were being cut off.

Hence, as seen from Washington, the conspiracy to chuck the colonel out of office, doubtless by killing him, as the most convenient method.

He beat 'em to it. He's a live wire.

According to what Washington hears, the Cubans generally are for him. The political party that supported him presidentially is. And Senator Jorge Maniche, congressional leader of the party which opposed him during the last election campaign, also has endorsed his pro-civilian policy.

Signs are that, at least temporarily, he's stronger than ever. It might have been expected from a chap who had the gumption to boost himself from the humble rating of an army sergeant into his local White House.

It remains to be seen how good an economist he is.

clad German troops entered Bulgaria as early as the first week in February.

(Editor's Note: A dispatch from Budapest last night said the British minister at Sofia, G. W. Rendel, was reported to have threatened Bulgarian Premier Bogdan Ploff with British bombing attacks if German forces entered the country. According to this version, Rendel told the premier the R.A.F. would blast Bulgarian railway lines. Ploff was said to have given no definite reply to Rendel, but to have discussed the matter with his cabinet at a special meeting last night.)

Many Rumors
Indicating the anxiety with which Britain is watching the boiling Balkan situation, British newspapers printed all sorts of rumors and reports regarding developments affecting Bulgaria. Many of these reports seemed to stem from the assertions of authoritative British quarters yesterday that the war might soon spread to Rumania, Bulgaria and perhaps even Turkey.

The London Daily Mail reported from Belgrade that Germany soon may dispatch an ultimatum to Bulgaria, demanding free passage for Nazi troops and that the Reich's "Panzer" divisions (motorized blitzkrieg experts) may cross the Danube into Bulgaria on Friday or Saturday.

A Reuters dispatch from Vichy reported that Gen. Samoclis, Soviet military attaché at Belgrade, departed hurriedly for Sofia, evidently to keep in close touch with the rapid military developments there.

The Daily Express said reports from all quarters show that more and more German troops are massing on the Bulgarian frontier. According to the official Turkish newspaper Politika, said the Express, German officers in the Balkans are announcing openly:

"Our goal is the Bosphorus and the Mediterranean."

"The Express also quoted an unnamed Turkish official as announcing:

"If an aggressor strikes in an unforeseen direction, the Turkish army will be ready. At a signal from President Inonu the nation will do its duty."

Ecclesian Club Birthday Event

Second Anniversary Is Observed By Club With Dinner And Program
Tuesday Evening

FATHER DOERR
GUEST SPEAKER

Good will and the spirit of friendliness was prevalent on Tuesday evening at the second anniversary of the Ecclesian club and on the observance of Founder's Day, which took place in the Ecclesian club rooms, East Washington street.

A crowd of approximately 200 attended the event, held jointly by the Ecclesian club and the Women's Ecclesian, the latter being formally welcomed by the president, Ray McAuley.

Toastmaster on this occasion was Ray McAuley, who introduced the honored guest and speaker of the evening, the Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Doerr, founder of the Ecclesian club. Father Doerr, now pastor of St. George's church in the South Hills district of Pittsburgh, spoke to the assembly on the ideals of the club, and said that he was greatly pleased to see it progress, and hoped that it would continue.

The next speaker was District Attorney John G. Lamoree, who spoke on the benefits of youth organizations, which under the proper guidance can accomplish much. Emanuel Shrenkan also spoke to the group about the Ecclesian club and told of what the young boys of the club should do to make it a better organization. Other speakers on the program who made brief remarks were Rev. Fr. William J. Erkens of St. Joseph's and Rev. Fr. Vincent O'Donnell, chaplain of the New Castle hospital.

An excellent performance of impersonations was the next feature, with Amil LeLenko capably in charge of this form of entertainment. The Reinhard children, Madeline, Charlotte, Helen, Mary, Carl and Tommy favored the group with solos and other song selections. They were accompanied by Frances Hellstern, pianist. Community singing brought the entertaining program to a close.

A delicious menu was enjoyed at a later hour, the dinner being served by a group of girls from the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Joseph's church, on beautifully arranged tables, centered with fresh flowers. Assisting on the kitchen committee were Mrs. Sara Wirtz, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. William Heibley and Mrs. Frank Henle.

Smooth functioning and cooperation of the committee members, F. W. Frey, Frank Haas, Chris Connor, Clarence Brown and Mrs. Helen Hite, enabled this second anniversary event to be one of the most successful undertakings of the club.

Almost Score Thoroughfares To Be Improved
During 1941

PLANS BEING PREPARED NOW

Approximately $125,000. will be expended by the federal and city governments here this spring and summer on paving according to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop. Plans for the project are being prepared by Throop and City Draftsman John Street.

According to Engineer Throop, the federal government cost will be approximately $100,000 and the city, $25,000. The latter cost will be assessed according to foot front rule against the abutting property-owners.

Streets Included

Plans call for paving as follows:

Chestnut street, between Williams and Ray streets.

DuShane street, between Lutton and Division streets.

Phillips street, between Mill street and Pollock avenue.

Jefferson street, between Lutton and Jefferson streets. (City officials explained there is a "jog" near the New Castle hospital).

Florence avenue, between Washington and Taylor streets and also Walls and Wolfe streets.

Ashland avenue, between Swansea and Wildwood avenues.

Wabash avenue, between Liberty and Second streets.

Franklin avenue, between Washington street and Stanton avenue.

Friendship street, between Mill and Mercer streets.

Moody avenue, between Delaware and Neshannock boulevard.

Blunston avenue, between Pearson street and Dean park.

Wilson avenue, between Arlington avenue and the City line.

Carlisle street, between Leasure and Winter avenues.

Center alley, between Moravia and Jefferson streets.

Dewey avenue, between Martin and Cascade streets.

Division street, between Pollock and Cunningham avenues.

Pollock avenue, between Division and Lutton streets.

Norwood avenue, between Delaware and Audley avenues.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop is anxious for the proposed South Mercer street bridge matter to reach the county grand jury.

He indicated today that the proposed structure can be built for at least $60,000.

The North street bridge cost $67,000, when prices were at their peak in 1928, he asserted.

Over $68,000 Has Been Placed In Parking Meters

Automobile and truck operators have deposited in nickels $68,220.40, from the time of their installation until January 1, 1941, according to a report made by City Treasurer C. C. McKibben and Controller S. L. Lockley.

The meters were installed in 1937 and during the period they were in use during that year motorists paid $9,103.05.

In 1938, there was deposited $20,356.40; in 1939, $19,569.30 and in 1940, $19,191.65.

The city installed 437 meters at a cost of $58 each or $25,346, less an installation charge of $1,861.62, and the company which installed the meters was given $800 by the city for upkeep. In other words the meters cost the city $24,284.38.

While the collection for 1940 was less than the preceding two years, the city officials mentioned that last year some meters were taken out of service. They were taken from sections of Mill street and Croton avenue.

PIKE'S PEAK RAILROAD
Industrial progress has come to Pike's Peak, Colo., where a 14,110-foot summit has been attained by visitors for the last 50 years in passenger trains pushed by tiny steam locomotive on a cog-and-rack railway. To lessen the dead weight that has to be pushed up the peak, an aluminum alloy train with diesel engine power has been substituted.

There were fewer deaths from measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough and diphtheria during the first three months of 1940 than in the similar period of 1939, according to insurance statistics.

Mobile Kitchen Unit
Here On Thursday

The Lawrence County Unit and the North Side Unit of the British War Relief Society Incorporation combined to bring to this city on Thursday for display, one of the mobile feeding kitchen units which have been sent to England in large numbers by the society in the past year.

The rolling kitchen as it is popularly called will be on display in front of 209 East Washington street from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. These feeding units have become the greatest single need of many of the cities and areas bombed in the British Isles, since they are equipped with built in appliances to cook foods right on the field of emergency. Insulated compartments keep stew soup, coffee hot for hours.

These units are manufactured in this country and cost $2,000.00 each, which includes the cost of maritime insurance. Each of these units can feed 200 people at a time, and the need for these rolling kitchens can best be described by the report which came from Coventry "We had eight of the units in different parts of the city and they did magnificently. Your interest and generosity would have been amply repaid by the appreciation of these people to whom we were able to give their first hot drink or hot meal in 48 hours. They stood amidst the ruins of their homes, full of courage and cheerfulness."

During the great fires which have followed many of the air raids in England, Wales and Scotland, hundreds of firemen which were brought in from nearby cities, and who fought fires for days on end without food or drink, until these rolling canteens were brought in to take care of them right at the spot where they were at work. When bombings take place it often happens that the electric, gas and water services are cut off for hours at a time, and in many places there is no method for the population to be fed unless mobile feeding kitchens can be made available.

The people of New Castle will be privileged to see one of these units for themselves, and the local organizations of The British War Relief Society extends all a cordial invitation to view the one which will be on display here on Thursday.

The Lawrence County Branch of The British War Relief Society has already begun campaigning for the necessary funds to send one of these units to Newcastle, England. So far donations for this purpose totals $715.00, and a concerted effort is now underway to raise the full amount required as quickly as possible.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the display of the unit comprises of, T. G. Lewis, Mrs. Carl Turner, Lewis J. Lewis of the Lawrence County Branch, and Ralph Cooper Esq. Mrs. Harry L. Sturdevant, and Mrs. A. H. Borland of the North Side Branch of the British War Relief Society.

State Leads In Coke And Coal*Idle Anthracite Mines Are Being Opened In Eastern Area

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—Already ranking first among the states in coke oven production and mining about 99 per cent. of all the anthracite in the country, Pennsylvania is making further progress in these fields, the State Department of Commerce reveals in announcing recent expanded activity. Idle from six to eight years, two anthracite mines expected eventually to give employment to about 1300 have been reopened in the Wilkes-Barre area by the Glen Alden Coal Company.

Officials of the Glen Alden firm said about 300 men have started to work in the Avondale Colliery and as the operation progresses more will be hired until about 600 are on the job. In the No. 9 colliery at Sugar Notch, 100 are now working and the force, it is said, will be enlarged until about 700 miners the company employed years ago are reinstated.

A spokesman for the firm said the reopenings were motivated by an increased demand for anthracite and because of a desire to distribute available work among more miners.

SISTER OF LOCAL*MEN DIES SUDDENLY

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Aurie Pettitt Allen, of Washington, D. C., who passed away suddenly with a heart attack at her home Monday night.

Mrs. Allen leaves one daughter, Miss Isabel Allen, at home, and two brothers, Wilbert L. and J. D. Pettitt, both of Warren avenue, this city.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday in Washington.

Phoony on flu—but what shall we do?

Influenza is widespread and destructive.

Discharges from the mouth and nose carry flu germs to others.

Careless coughing and sneezing send germs through the air.

Symptoms appear within 24 to 72 hours after germs enter the body.

Influenza is a more severe infection than the common cold.

There is fever, with pains in back, head and limbs.

Influenza usually leaves the patient after a week.

Pneumonia may become a serious complication of influenza.

Infections of the ear, sinuses or bronchitis may follow influenza.

Depressions Bring Best Advances In Educational World

So Declares Educational Authority In Address To Westminster Students

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 12.—Economic depressions, such as the one of 1929, have produced most of the major advances in the educational world. Dr. William C. Bagley, editor of "School and Society" and an outstanding American educational authority, told Westminster college students here on the campus.

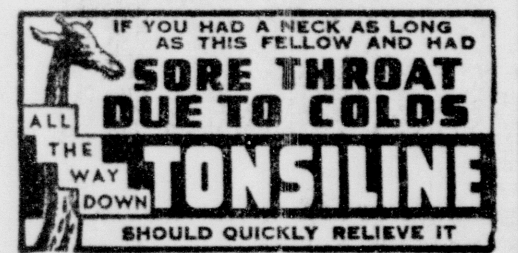

"Out of the depression of 1939 came a tremendous growth in the fields of adult education; a movement for higher standards in the teaching profession; and the spread of junior colleges in large cities," the educational expert related.

"From the depression of 1837, a century ago, grew the movement for a universal elementary school system, paid for by the tax-payer," Dr. Bagley said. "This type of education laid the foundation for democracy."

The depression of 1873 brought in the state-supported high school, in an effort to absorb youth who failed to find jobs in industry and business, according to Dr. Bagley. Chief high school growth, however, came in the 1890's, following the depression of 1893.

OUTDATED MAILING LIST

WACO, Tex.—Somebody's mailing list is a little out of date, believes Dr. W. T. Gooch of the Baylor University faculty. Dr. Gooch displays a letter addressed to him at Baylor University, Independence, Texas, to prove his point. The university was founded at Independence in 1845, but was moved to Waco in 1886.

In the vault room of the register and recorder there is an old time table used by attorneys for examining titles and other records. There are those who say it was originally built and installed when the court house was built, back in 1831.

The supports of the table are of wrought iron, three sections of them, while under the wood surface is a sheet of iron. Recently the wooden surface has become scored and uneven and a sheet of masonite was put on, making a smooth topped table again. Old as it is, the table is probably the stoutest table in the building.

The following letters have been issued by Register and Recorder Orville Potter:

Letters testamentary to Edwin N. Rappold in the estate of Henry E. Rappold, late of New Castle, who died January 26, 1941.

Letters testamentary to Norman J. Anderson in the estate of Jane H. Anderson, late of New Wilmington, who died January 12, 1941.

Letters of administration to Lawrence Savings and Trust Company in the estate of James S. Young, late of New Castle, who died January 3, 1941.

Letters of administration to Orville Brown in the estate of William H. Hale, late of Ellwood City, who died February 15, 1940.

Letters testamentary to J. Clarence McFate in the estate of Ada L. McFate, late of New Castle, who died January 4, 1941.

"FLU" HITS POULTRY

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—What is commonly known as "flu" is said by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture to be one of the most serious diseases confronting the poultry industry. The disease has been recognized within the past 10 years. Chickens and possibly pheasants are the only fowls which are seriously affected. It attacks birds of any age and causes the greatest losses during the colder months of the year.

Although the big lumbering days in Pennsylvania are gone, lumbermen and lumbering states still retain about 750,000 acres. Much of the land is cut-over and second growth forest.

PNEUMONIA TREATMENT

Yesterday I told of the old treatment of pneumonia, in which the patient himself actually had to do most of the work. It wasn't until about a decade ago that this method began to be changed effectively.

Before that, we knew there were several types of the disease known as pneumonia. Then intensive research and a chain of discoveries showed us there were actually between thirty and forty entirely different types!

It is just over ten years ago that a serum was developed for one of these types. Then work began in feverish earnest to develop serums for them all. For although the organisms through the microscope all look more or less alike, they are really all different and require different serums. Even now serums haven't been discovered to combat all varieties, but we are getting nearer and nearer that goal all the time.

With the discovery and testing of these serums, the whole treatment of pneumonia changed completely. Now when the physician discovers that his patient has pneumonia, the first thing he does is take a sample of the sputum so that he may have it analyzed, to determine the type of pneumonia and select the proper serum.

With an adult, it isn't any trouble to get sputum. All is required is for the patient to cough into a bottle which has been previously sterilized. But if the patient is a baby or a small child, then there is a problem because children usually swallow whatever they cough up. The doctor just has to get sputum the best way he can.

Once the sputum is obtained, however, it only takes a few hours to determine the type of germ that has attacked the victim. When this is known, the proper type of serum usually can be given immediately. Stocks of them are maintained at convenient points all over the country.

These serums have greatly reduced the number of deaths from pneumonia, but it still has a high mortality rate among children. This, I believe, is largely because the doctor isn't given the opportunity to treat it quickly. When the child becomes sick, the symptoms of pneumonia aren't recognized by the parents, and they delay calling the doctor until the condition is obviously serious. So the disease, which progresses very rapidly, has a head start before anything is done.

Not long ago, the head of a large children's hospital complained to me that within a few days four babies belatedly brought into his institution suffering from pneumonia had died. The parents had waited too long to have the children treated.

He said to me: "Doctor, these deaths were entirely unnecessary. If the new drugs and serums for the treatment of pneumonia had been given in time, none of them would have died."

Tomorrow—More About Pneumonia.

Almost Half Of State's Area Is In Forest Land

State Forests And Game Lands Comprise Large Acreage

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—Pennsylvania has 46 per cent of her area of 13,200,000 acres in forest land.

Of this amount the state forests comprise 1,654,283 acres and game refuges 650,774 acres. The national forests, under the control of the federal government, comprise 446,240 acres located in McKean, Warren, Forest and Elk counties.

Farmers are the largest single group of forest-owners, comprising one-third of the forest land in the state or 4,000,000 acres. Approximately two and a half million acres comprise "farm woodlots" and an additional one and one-half million acres of "mountain land." Similarly located are two and one-half million acres in "absentee ownership" by private individuals who reside in towns and cities.

The largest class of industrial owners is represented by coal operators of the anthracite and bituminous fields who have two million acres.

Although the big lumbering days in Pennsylvania are gone, lumbermen and lumbering states still retain about 750,000 acres. Much of the land is cut-over and second growth forest.

Members Of Cooperative Sales Association Of District G To Meet In March

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of District Unit "G" of the D.C.S.A., it was decided to have a district banquet Friday evening, March 7, at the First Presbyterian church, Slippery Rock.

This will be the second annual banquet of District "G" and the many dairymen in Butler, Lawrence and Mercer counties who packed the banquet hall to overflowing at the district banquet last year will be pleased to know that a similar program is being planned for their enjoyment again this year. However, because only 250 guests can be conveniently accommodated it will be necessary to have an advance sale of tickets. Arrangements are being made to have these tickets available soon from the local secretaries or haulers in the district.

Scatter Fruit, Write Profanely,

The depredations were discovered by Janitor Joseph Patterson, who notified school and police officials. The vandals entered by removing a screen from the boys' lavatory window, and departed via a fire-escape.

RUSSIAN BEAUTY HOLDS KEY POST IN MOSCOW OGPU

(International News Service)
LONDON — Comrade Ekaterina Vialtzeva, a tall, slim and ruthless woman, is now the Political Sub-Commissar of the Moscow OGPU (secret police).

Details of the alleged brutal actions of this carefully manicured Russian beauty are given by Colonel Victor K. Kaledin in his book "Moscow-Berlin". One of the large rooms of the OGPU headquarters has been converted into an ultra-modern office for her use. On her writing table are a number of curious souvenirs, including a twisted piece of barbed wire, a dented revolver, a silver cigarette case with a hole in the center, and a gold ring.

On one of the walls hang pieces of wood removed in 1920 from the cells of the Cheka. One piece of wood bears the inscription "Varvara, the servant of God, is to be shot tonight. Tell the Mother Superior, April 3, 1919."

Comrade Vialtzeva, who always dresses exquisitely in black and wears beautiful amber bracelets, condemned 500 ex-Tsarist officers to death in December, 1917. They were executed in batches of fifty, the book relates.

Snowfall Costs State Big Sum

State-Wide Downfall Costs
Taxpayers $75,000
Per Day

8,000 MEN NEEDED TO CLEAR HIGHWAYS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—It costs the Department of Highways approximately $75,000 a day for winter service whenever there is a general state-wide snowfall engineers estimate.

A force of about 8,000 men is needed on these occasions and 1250 trucks are put into service.

In addition to the department-owned equipment it sometimes becomes necessary to rent additional trucks and plows when conditions warrant. The number of men employed on winter service work also varies depending on the extent of the snow storm.

In preparation for this winter's snow removal needs the department purchased 249 new trucks and 278 new plows. Some of these were for replacement of old and worn-out equipment, while the others were for increased facilities to handle the snow removal program. The trucks purchased varied from the light ton and a half size to the 5 and 7 ton four-wheel drive units.

The Pennsylvania department during the present winter has a snow removal program covering 19,236 miles, the largest in its history. This covers roads in boroughs and townships. The law making the department responsible for maintenance of roads in cities specifically makes the municipal authorities responsible for snow removal.

The mileage of road kept free of snow by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways is much more extensive than in the other states.

The figures compiled by the Federal Bureau of Roads for the winter of 1939-40 show the Pennsylvania Department's snow removal mileage to be 18,215. During the present winter that figure has been increased by 1020 additional miles.

Pennsylvania also erects more snow fence than its sister states in its battle with the winter elements. Last winter the Department of Highways had 2429 miles in place.

Americanization Committee
Meets In Y. M. C. A. To Hear
Monthly Report

Americanization committee members had their monthly meeting last Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A. when Christine Butler gave the following report for the Neighborhood House.

Calls made numbered 32. The class schedule for the month was as follows: Beginners sewing class is making scarves and a prize has been offered all members who will memorize all Bible verses and choruses used in the class devotional period. Three of the Neighborhood House girls are helpers in the class. The Women's English class has 24 members, many of them getting ready for citizenship—learning about our country and to be good American citizens. Jean Butler is the teacher.

Loyal Temperance Legion boys and girls are taking examinations each month on what they have learned. An incentive for them to remember the facts they have been taught. A new club, the missionary scrapbook club, now numbers 14 girls. Their leader is Miss Mary Lee Bell, assisted by Miss Dorothy Marshall. The books, when finished, will be sent to children in the southern mountains.

The boys' class of the Sabbath school had its monthly social time with games in charge of the president, Roy McClendon. Refreshments were served and the boys had a quiz on the memory work for the month. Adult members of the Bible study class had a tureen dinner with 13 members present.

Several of the girls of the embroidery class have almost completed their quilts and all are doing nice work. Members of the music class are still working on their lessons with Mrs. Russell Muder as teacher.

The Sabbath school has continued its regular work. The orchestra and prayer groups meet each week. One of the girls, who is an invalid, was sent a box of quilt patches, ready to sew, by Mrs. C. E. Book. Mrs. Ira Campbell gave cards to be used by the girls in their scrapbooks, and a victrola and records have been given by Mrs. Roy Hazen.

Magazine and books for the library have been received from Mrs. Russell Muder. Clothing has been given to two families and two new testaments have been given.

We've put one over on the yardsticks

Buick SPECIAL 4-door Sedan,

Here are FOUR NEW ADDITIONS to the BUICK SPECIAL Line that Compact Motorcar Bigness into Handy Size

TIME was when you measured a car's ability and standing by the yardstick distance from bumper to bumper.

But not any more — not entirely.

Not since Buick made ready the four new additions to its 1941 SPECIAL series that are built for big-car travel tastes — and small-car garages!

They are cars to take the measure of almost anything on the road in the lift and life of their 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL engines.*

They are cars with room for all the family, with all the little Buick

luxury touches, with the unrivaled comfort of Buick's all-coil springing and steady-going roadability

But bumper to bumper they are shorter — so they fit your garage, park like a bicycle and flit through traffic with ridiculous ease.

And they go farther on every gallon — farther, even, than other Buicks.

So you can't take their measure with a yardstick.

'OOMPH' CALLED NEED OF INTERIOR HOME COLORS

(International News Service)
DENVER—What this country needs today is more "oomph" in the interior colors of its homes, in the opinion of Captain H. Ledyard Towle of Pittsburgh, an expert in colors, who was one of the principal speakers at the 29th annual convention of the Western Tri-State Council of Painting and Decorating contractors in Denver.

Captain Towle, who experimented with colors for camouflage purposes during the World War, believes that by use of proper color combinations it is possible to make rooms look big or small, tall or squat, cheery or unpleasant.

Captain Towle demonstrated how to doll up a home so it accentuated the beauty and personality of the hostess, using blonds, brunets, red-heads and gray-haired women, dressed in colorful street and formal dresses, modeling them in a set of 10 different color panels to show the contrasts and pleasing results which can be obtained.

A Baltimore woman was recently given a permanent wave by lightning. A bolt flashed into her bedroom and the bobby pins and hair pins in her hair turned into miniature curling irons. Her hair immediately twisted into tiny curls.

Mrs. Erle B. Yahn Named President Of Woman's Club

Re-Elected To First Office Of Leading Civic Organization
For New Year

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Erle B. Yahn was highly honored by being re-elected president of the Ellwood City Woman's Club for the 1941-42 season on Tuesday afternoon when the February meeting of the organization took place at 2 o'clock in the assembly room of the city building.

Chosen to serve with her were: First vice president, Mrs. Elmer S. Greenham; second, Mrs. H. S. Gold; third, Mrs. Paul Reynolds; recording secretary, Mrs. J. D. Sartwell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. L. Snyder; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Carbeau; and director, Mrs. George Wilson. Mrs. Thomas B. Magee and Mrs. Harry R. Smith.

The well attended meeting featured a patriotic program which began with the presentation of a large American flag to the city building in memory of Miss Bessie Runyan, a former club leader. Mrs. Moss Lauderbaugh made the presentation and it was graciously accepted by Lowell W. Monroe, borough manager. The meaning of the flag and its correct usage was outlined by Eugene Tanner, boat wain of the sea scouts, and also served to mark the observance of Boy Scout week.

Six Westminster college students under the direction of Mr. Appleman sang a group of madrigal selections that delighted the assembly.

Two new members, Mrs. S. L. Matthews and Mrs. Alex Johnston, were welcomed into the club. Invitations to attend the British War Relief dance on Friday, February 21, at the Elks club, and a card party to be held on Friday, February 14, by the ways and means committee at the city building, were accepted.

With the hostesses being garbed in patriotic costumes, tea and other dainty refreshments were served as the final feature.

For the next meeting on Tuesday, March 11, husbands will be guests and it will be an evening meeting with the Junior Woman's club to provide the entertainment. They plan to present a minstrel show.

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 12.—The Ellwood Socials captured their first Berar Valley league victory of the second half at the Shelby auditorium last night defeating Zelenople 45 to 44 in a close contest.

The Zelenople cagers jumped to a 20 to 15 lead at the halfway mark but the locals rallied in the next two periods. Friedhoff sank a basket late in the final session to put the locals in the lead at 44 to 42. Captain Alex Robuck converted a free throw which proved the winning point when Clark ended the scoring with a field goal for Zelenople.

Dick Friedhoff, Jimmy Fusco, and Jimmy Gottuso paced the Socials in scoring with 14, 10 and 9 points respectively. Sankey with eight field goals and Seeth with seven were best for the losers.

Strangers Take Auto From Steve

Two Men He Picked Up Slug Him And Take His Car, He Reports

Steve Hasulak, rear 125 East Long avenue, probably will think twice in the future before picking up two men and hauling them in an auto because they "did him dirt," according to a police report. It appears that the car belongs to Sam Matt, 510 Electric street. Steve was driving it at 4 a. m. today. He picked up two men on the South Side and agreed to drive them to the Seventh Ward.

When they reached the Seventh Ward "they took over" and after reportedly slugging Hasulak put him out of the auto at Willow Grove and sped away.

Knox Opposes
Any Transfer Of Destroyers

By GRIFFING BANCROFT, JR.
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Secretary of Navy Knox today took sharp issue with a suggestion by Wendell Wilkie that this country turn over to the British five or ten destroyers a month.

Far from contemplating any further depletion of United States naval forces, Knox said he plans to speed destroyer production "for the use of our own fleet."

Asked at his press conference if the United States had destroyers to spare as suggested by the 1940 GOP presidential candidate, Knox said hotly:

"We certainly have not. We haven't any more to spare if we are to have a balanced fleet. I have expressed myself very vigorously on that."

The secretary said that there were absolutely no requests pending from the British "for anything from our fleet."

The first train exclusively for women went out from New York half way across the United States to the General Federation of Women's clubs convention in Denver in 1898.

Food Stamp Plan Will Be Extended

By LEONARD APPELBAUM
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12.—The department of public assistance today prepared to help the federal government extend the food stamp plan for distributing surplus farm commodities to 435,549 needy Pennsylvanians.

The food stamp plan, first launched in Pennsylvania in the Allentown-Bethlehem area in 1939, and later extended to Pittsburgh, Scranton and Philadelphia, will encompass two additional areas within a month.

Crawford, Erie, Mercer, Venango and Warren counties in the north-west tier and Johnstown, all of Cambria county, Indiana and Somerset counties have been designated as stamp plan areas.

Two Types Of Stamps

It was pointed out there are two types of stamps—orange and blue. Although each stamp is worth 25 cents, for every two orange stamps purchased, the government will issue one free blue stamp. The blue stamp, it was explained, permits the buying of surplus foods.

Maximum and minimum purchases are established for each family size and in no case will the minimum requirement exceed the present family cash outlay for food.

Such surplus foods as rice, butter, eggs, raisins, pork, fresh pears, edible beans and similar articles may be purchased under the blue stamp plan. Regulations prohibit, however, the exchanging of stamps for liquor or tobacco.

According to government figures, 7,423 persons on relief in the Allentown-Bethlehem area were eligible to share in the program. Of this number, 5,256 participated and received $12,795 worth of free blue stamps during the month of December, 1940.

Large Proportion Sale

In Pittsburgh, 143,547 needy persons were eligible and 100,690 participated. The total free blue stamps issued in December to Pittsburgh's poor were valued at $209,503.

Eligible persons in Scranton totaled 24,628 while 17,675 obtained blue stamps valued at $45,931.50, while in Philadelphia 159,527 were eligible and 52,367 participated, getting blue stamps worth $114,860.

Federal surveys show that approximately 52,855 persons in the

Hollanders Hold Invaders In Contempt—Await Return Of Queen Wilhelmina

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 11.—Although Holland is now occupied by the Germans, the Netherlands government has not relinquished its independence or sovereignty, the Netherlands Society of Pennsylvania was told at its 50th annual dinner in Philadelphia.

Dr. Alexander Loudon, Dutch minister to the United States, asserted his country would never make peace with the Nazis as long as Great Britain holds out. He said that 95 per cent of the Dutch populace is opposed to the Germans and is striving for the return of Queen Wilhelmina to her throne.

Hollanders at present feel "nothing but contempt" for the invaders and are ignoring them, the orator added. "That," he asserted, "is the hardest thing for Germans in uniform to bear—not to be noticed."

The first governmental employment agency was opened in the United States in Ohio in 1890.

HOPPE MEETS FIRST DEFEAT

Champion Billiard Player Faces Stiff Fight In $20,000 Classic

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—The battle for the 1941 world three-cushion billiards championship reached the "sudden death" stage today with Willie Hoppe facing an increasingly stiff fight in defense of his crown.

Hoppe, after 13 straight victories, finally met defeat last night, bowing to Welker Cochran, a three-time world titleholder, 50 to 40, in 50 innings. The triumph was sweet revenge for Cochran, who won the world crown in 1935 by defeating Brunton, then lost the championship back to the one-time "boy wonder" in a challenge series.

The San Francisco won the title back in 1936, again with a victory over Hoppe being decisive, but last year, while Hoppe was running up 20 straight victories to annex all three-cushion honors, Cochran was tripped up twice by the champ.

In Third Place
Cochran's win last night put him in third place with only three more days of competition in the month-long $20,000 classic. In second place were Jake Schaefer of Cleveland and Jay Bozeman of Vallejo, Calif., each with 12 victories against two losses, compared to Hoppe's 13 wins and one loss for first place.

The title fight, apparently narrowed down to a three-day affair, featured all the top challengers in today's and this evening's schedule.

Greatest interest centered in the evening matches, in which Hoppe will face Allen Hall of Chicago, and Schaefer and Bozeman will battle it out in their close rivalry. Should Hoppe be upset, the winner of the Schaefer-Bozeman match would be tied with him for the lead.

The date of the Chicago Relays, finals of the indoor track season, is March 22. Dates in the middle west extend over almost three months.

New Castle High Tops Beaver Falls In Section Battle

Score Is 34 To 17 At George Washington High Court On Tuesday Night

THIRD WIN FOR LOCALS, IN LOOP

New Castle high school basketball team won its third game in Section Three last night at the George Washington High floor, defeating Beaver Falls High 34 to 17. Charley "Red" Ross was the standout performer for the New Castle team. Play in the first period was fairly close, with New Castle enjoying a 9 to 7 lead at the end of the first session through the fine work of Ross, Lee and Cooper.

Locals Take Big Lead

New Castle outscored their opponents 8 to 4 for the second period to lead at the half 17 to 11. Ross was the main gun in the New Castle attack with six of the points.

McMurdy, a sub, and Brown had the only points made by the Beaver Falls team.

It was in the third period that New Castle really went to town, getting eight points to two for the visitors. Christopher and Thomas did the bulk of the New Castle tallying in the third stanza. Brown had the lone field goal that the New Castle defense allowed.

New Castle continued its fine play the fourth and final period to score nine more points and allowing the valleyites but four. Coach Phil Bredenbaugh used his entire substitute list of Zubkowsky, Parou, Tomalelo, Melichar and Guinagh in the game at various times the final two periods.

Play Butler Friday

Ross and Brown for their respective teams did nice work. The New Castle diminutive forward played a fine floor game and had ten of the points. Lee, Cooper and Christopher also looked very good in the New Castle lineup.

New Castle will play Butler High a non-league game here on Friday night at the Washington High court. New Brighton High will be here Friday, February 21, for the final Section Three game of the season.

Westminster college's high-scoring forward, "Buzz" Ridl, is the authority on the Titan squad for keeping in condition.

Floor Managers Will Meet Monday

Music Council Will Get Benefits Of Fourth Annual Basketball Tournament

The first meeting for the managers of the various basketball teams in New Castle and Lawrence County preparatory to the coming fourth annual city-county tournament at the George Washington high gym starting the night of Monday, March 3, will be held next Monday night at the City Council chambers at 7:30 o'clock.

General Chairman Anthony Conn will be in charge of the meeting. All managers who intend to enter teams in either Class A or B should make it a point to be at the meeting or have a credited representative.

Music Council Benefit

The entire proceeds of the tournament this year will go to the New Castle Music Council to help defray the expenses of the coming Forensic state music tournament, slated to be held here this spring.

The Music Council has promised to help the tournament officials with the various details of running such a gigantic enterprise.

Tickets good for all games in the tournament, except the final night, have been placed on sale at the following places—Sporting Goods store, Gerson Jewelry store and Gus Slovinsky's store. The tickets, as last year, will sell for only 50 cents.

Members of the Senior High band also have tickets for sale.

Sportsmen Meet Tuesday Evening

Fox Hunt Planned For Tonight; Plans For Annual Banquet Launched

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association held their monthly meeting in the Veterans of Foreign War hall, East Washington street, on Tuesday evening.

During an interesting talk, Frank Coen, game warden, urged his audience to feed game. He displayed an original gadget for holding corn on the ear. The new feeder allows unobstructed view for game and is easily set up. Coen pointed out.

Plans were launched for the annual banquet to be held late in March. A committee of six, headed by Gurth W. Rapson, was selected.

The first of a series of fox hunts to be held by the association will take place tonight at 8 o'clock. It was decided during the session. The hunt will start from the service station at the top of Coaltown Hill. Sportsmen are requested to bring their own fox hounds.

Secretary Drio reported that blanks for stocking bass and trout have been received from the federal government and that the blanks will be filled and sent in soon.

At the conclusion, Earl Jordan showed movies taken in the west, in addition to movies of several local hunters.

LIGHT-HEAVIES IN ELIMINATIONS

Tucker, Webb, Lesnevich And Christoforidis Seek Billy Conn's Crown

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The light heavyweight fistic division today faced the bright prospect of having an undisputed ruler next summer,
the New York boxing commission having arranged a series of elimination bouts to decide who shall wear the crown that currently is jointly claimed by Billy Conn and Anton Christoforidis. The commission met in solemn conclave with the managers of Christoforidis and three other contenders, Tommy Tucker, Johnny Webb and Gus Lesnevich, and arranged the eliminations.

A match between Christoforidis, the recognized National boxing association champ, and Lesnevich was arranged for May 2. It will be a 15-rounder, but no title was set.

The Christoforidis-Lesnevich battle will be a follow-up to the Tucker-Webb scrap already scheduled for Feb. 21 for 15 rounds in Madison Square Garden.

Ready To Relinquish Title
The pay-off will be a third bout sometime in June between the winners of these two, the ultimate victor being the recognized champion.

In connection with these decrees, Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York commission, announced that Billy Conn would relinquish his New York title whenever the commission wished.

Conn, therefore, is virtually out of the title proceedings, his title already having been awarded Christoforidis by the N. Y. A. on the basis that Conn had not defended it since last summer and that he now is contending for heavyweight honors.

HOSTAK VS. BURNETTE

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Al Hostak of Seattle, Wash., former NBA middleweight champion, today signed a contract to meet George Burnette of Detroit in a 10-round bout February 21 at Chicago stadium.

The fight will be the ex-champion's first since he lost his title to Tony Zale last July.

In the main bout Zale will defend his title against Steve Mamakos, Greek contender.

Nominations are open for a successor to Billy Conn, retiring champion of the light heavyweights. Billy won't fight again in that class. He is concentrating now on preparations for his bout with Joe Louis.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

One sport niblet after another...
Lawrence county's sports coterie, particularly the golf addicts, will be pleased to know that Mrs. Thomas E. Nolan is convalescing following an appendicitis operation in the Jameson Memorial hospital. The nationally known star returned to her home, 1011 Maryland avenue, on Tuesday. The West Penn champ was competing in the Miami-Biltmore Invitation tourney when stricken.

Tobe Fenati, whose lightning-like dashes for New Castle High thrilled thousands of "Hurricane" gridiron followers more than a decade ago, is showing rapid progress in the opera world. Fenati has been studying in New York for a little more than a year. During a recent visit here, the ex-gridder sang two selections. Fenati simply "wowed" the listeners.

Fenati's hop from the athletic world to the intriguing opera world recalls the case of Milo Theodorescu. The Rumanian boxer is undoubtedly one of the most talented victims in the country today. Milo, who doesn't have too much savvy in a boxing way, can hang up the gauntlets any day and step into the musical world. Bill Stern, the talented sports caddy, unearthed the somewhat odd sports yarn recently.

Westminster college's initial cage defeat swelled our mail. We pre-

Fred Haney, manager of the St.
Louis Browns, made one prediction, last spring. That was that the Browns would not lose 111 games as they had in 1939. They did not. They lost only 87. They all but broke even the last two months of the season and won fifteen out of twenty-six in the last month.

dicted an unblemished season for classy Titans. They let us down once, losing to Indiana Teachers.
On the heels of the setback, several members of the sports gentry dipped their pens and went to work.
We accept the blasts good-naturedly.
Your scribbler is wrong again. We assure you it won't be the last time
we muff the ball.

Clair Bee, Long Island University's streamlined coach, is well known throughout the district. The nationally famous cage mentor once matriculated at Waynesburg college.
"Jock" Sutherland dislikes wearing a vest. Unless he dons a tux or a full dress job, the silent Scot usually goes around vestless. We doff our lid to Willie Hoppe, the cue wizard, who quit his bed and is showing the younger gentry something about this three-cushioned billiard game.

A few tidbits lifted out of Bill
Brant's National League Green Book: Harry Craft set a new defensive record for fly shaggers in 1940. He fumbled once, hanging up a .597 mark, an all-time standard of perfection approximation. Deas Garms created a draft only six times in '40. Lloyd Wanner owns the best record for least number of strikeouts over a 14-year span. The Pirate outfielder retired via the whiffing system 446 times, about one strikeout in every 49 visits at the plate.

Wampum Indians Top Union, 32-17

Wampum High Remains In Section 20 Race By Winning Last Night

Led by Craine and Frank, Wampum High's determined cage aggregation remained in the thick of the fight for Section 20 honors by side-tracking Union Township, 32-17, Tuesday night at Ellwood City.

Union's best efforts came in the first period when it held the second place Indians to a 5-5 deadlock.
Wampum stepped on the accelerator and left the floor at half time with a 16-8 margin. The Indians continued their impressive playing and doubled the score as the third period closed, 28-14.

Hervatine's work at guard was outstanding. Craine popped in 11 points to lead his mates. Frank contributed nine markers. Daugherty and Zorazze were Union's best bets.

In the preliminary, the Wampum reserves spoiled the hitherto unblemished record of Union's seconds, 29-18.

Wampum High can gain a tie for first place by defeating Mt. Jack-

City.

SAN FRANCISCO—Bicycle polo,

recently introduced in San Francisco, is proving popular.

If Les Leasure continues to improve it may not be so far distant when local fans will want Russell Baxter and he to swap punches. Les has a nice jab and as soon as he gets a right working and gathers a little more speed he will be Baxter's threat.

Representative Elmer Holland of Allegheny county has introduced a bill in the state house which, if adopted, would leave supervision of wrestling to local authorities, stating they are merely exhibitions.
Under the state law, a city by ordinance can ban or allow boxing or wrestling.

Conn McCreary, tiny jockey at Hialeah park, rode four winners
Monday. He had four mounts, Blue Castle, Miss Beans, Tragic Ending and Moja. He also won a second and sixth place when he lost a poor day's work. He has 20 winners to 26 for Jockey Eads in the present meet.

There was no quiz of Commissioner Leon Rains of the State Boxing commission yesterday. Senator H. J. Jaspas saving asked it be delayed until after the Louis-Donzio bout in Philadelphia next Monday. Convivance with gambling and the inequality of the Louis-Donzio fight was charged by Jaspas.

Henry Fowmes' Escapade was leading the Miami-Nassau yacht race today. Indiana and Lock Haven boxers drew at Lock Haven yesterday and Waynesburg matmen lost to Ohio U. Eugene Turner of Los Angeles led in the school figure skating at Philadelphia on Monday.
He is the U. S. champion.

My Own Bruce, 5-year-old Cocker Spaniel, opened defense of his title best in the show, in New York on Monday by winning first prize among the American type of his breed. First among his contenders is a Kerry blue terrier, Buskin of Kenmare.

When Gallahadion won the 1940
derby, with a mutual payoff of $35.20 for each $1 invested, there was an idea that he was longest shot in the field of eight starters.
But there were two others which would have paid higher.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Penn State will resume old rivalries on the gridiron with both Pennsylvania and Cornell in 1942, according to the Nittany Lion football schedule released today. The Lions will play eight games, one less than the 1941 card which includes nine opponents for the first time in many years. It has been announced that State's opening encounter next fall with Colgate would be played at Buffalo, N. Y. in the Civic Stadium instead of at Hamilton, N. Y., as originally announced.

Defeat of Wild Bill Boyd by Harry Bobo means that the burly colored heavyweight of Pittsburgh may now leave the "Ham-and" circuit and draw lucrative purses, providing he wages as aggressive attack as he did Monday night in Pittsburgh. Of course, in our way of judging fighters, Boyd is not and never was a wild man, unless one counted the deliveries intended for some point that failed to land. He was just an ordinary grade heavyweights.
However, Bobo is young. So far he has been an "in and outer". The Harris-Belloise match, in our way of figuring, was a poor match. Harris has not been out of the the amateurs sufficiently long to battle
a title-contender and the result proved it.

As soon as Russell Baxter learns how to put leverage into his punches
he is going to make a lot of trouble for the upper grade of amateur boxers. Right now he's rather perfect looking. What we like about Baxter is his ability to think. He is mentally alert and while he won with ease Monday night, it was his versatile attack that caught our fancy.
Anyone who knows boxing will agree that unless a performer has a versatile attack he will not get far.
Some fighters are right hand crazy
—that is, they use nothing but right hand punches. In such cases the punch being equal, the boy with the fastest right wins usually.

Baseball men of the Lawrence league will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Sporting Goods store and it is likely that the patriarch of the Lawrence county diamond sport, Bill Andrews, will be there. He not only played baseball for a score years but played almost three score years and he doubt holds the record of having been this county's eldest player in service. To be frank, we believe he has played with almost every loop, excepting the City league. He was with the late Johnny Jackson, Tony Richards,
Eddie Connery the writer and others
when the Lawrence circuit was organized in 1922. He has been one of the main arteries of the loop.
The meeting tonight is for the purpose of completing plans for the annual dinner in Ellwood City, February 19.

Billy Conn and Dan Hassett will fight in Washington, March 8. The bout was arranged today by Ray Alvis and Mike Jacobs, co-promoters of the Uline arena. Alvis is the man who sent Tony Herrera to this city when he was located in Chicago. He is now a Washington promoter.

Business Manager Eddie Collins of the Boston Red Sox today announced the signing of first baseman Jimmy Fox at a salary of $22,000 for 1941. Terry Moore has signed to play center field for the Cardinals. It will be his seventh consecutive season with the St.
Louis team.

Billy Conn can secure himself
$15,000 by fighting Anton Christoforidis in Cleveland. Promoter Mike Jacobs wants to send Christoforidis

Fox Hunting Is Mercer Co. Sport

MERCER, Feb. 12.—County sportsmen are enjoying the sport of fox hunting and a number of red fox have been killed during the winter, and their ears turned in to secure the state bounty.

Among the sport men who are enjoying the chase are former County Clerk of Courts Frank D. Fair, and also former game protector and O. A. Persekha, county agent of animal husbandry, also a former game protector.

The pair have been following the fox and hounds on several occasions and Persekha has added two to his kill. Boy Scouts have also enjoyed the chase on two occasions and while not armed with firearms they have considerable sport out of chasing the wily fox.
